Example

This Example is intended to help you compare the cost of investing in the Fund with the cost of investing in other mutual funds.

This Example assumes that you invest $10,000 in Davis Government Money Market Fund for the time periods indicated and then redeem all of your shares at the end of those periods. This Example also assumes that your investment has a 5% return each year and the Fund's operating expenses remain the same. Although your actual costs may be higher or lower, based on these assumptions, your costs would be:

If you sell your shares in:	1 Year	3 Years	5 Years	10 Years
Class A, Class B, Class C or Class Y shares	$62	$195	$340	$762

You would pay the following expenses if you did not redeem your shares:	1 Year	3 Years	5 Years	10 Years
Class A, Class B, Class C or Class Y shares	$62	$195	$340	$762

Principal Investment Strategies

The Fund is a money market fund that seeks to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per share. There can be no guarantee that the Fund will be successful in maintaining a $1.00 share price.

Davis Government Money Market Fund invests exclusively in U.S. Treasury securities, U.S. Government agency securities, U.S. Government agency mortgage securities (collectively "U.S. Government Securities"), and repurchase agreements collateralized by U.S. Government Securities. The Fund seeks to maintain liquidity and preserve capital by carefully monitoring the maturity of its investments. The Fund's portfolio maintains a dollar-weighted average maturity of sixty days or less.

Principal Risks of Investing in Davis Government Money Market Fund

The principal risks of investing in the Fund are:

Variable Current Income risk. The income which the Fund pays to investors is not stable.

Interest Rate Sensitivity risk. If a security pays a fixed interest rate, and market rates increase, the value of the fixed-rate security generally declines.

Changes in Debt Rating risk. If a rating agency gives a fixed income security a low rating, the value of the security will decline because investors will demand a higher rate of return.

Fees and Expenses risk. The Fund may not earn enough through income and capital appreciation to offset the operating expenses of the Fund. All mutual funds incur operating fees and expenses. Fees and expenses reduce the return which a shareholder may earn by investing in a fund, even when a fund has favorable performance. A low return environment, or a bear market, increases the risk that a shareholder may lose money.

Your investment in the Fund is not a bank deposit and is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency, entity or person. Although the Fund seeks to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, it is possible to lose money by investing in the Fund.
